

THEATRES-CONTINUED

THE OLYMPIA
Gloria Swanson in "The Coast of Folly" will be the special feature of the Olympia Theatre this Saturday. It is the story of a girl who runs around on the shoals of scandal. It is filled with laughs and heart-throbs. "The Police State" will be presented on Sunday and Monday. James Kirkwood, Edna Murphy and Edna Brown are the principals. The scenes are laid in New York, and tell of a policeman's love for a girl who lives on his beat. He is horrified, first, to learn that both virtual and circumstantial evidence prove her to be a notorious crook. He is ordered to arrest her. Then follow unusual complications which result in the girl being sentenced from the penitentiary. His own name under a cloud, he continues to work on the case until, at last, after many very exciting hours, he brings the crook to justice, clears his own name and vindicates his honor.

"If Marriage Fails" is a picture that smashes out with tremendous power, leading the convention, the mightiest and the unvarnished truth, yet without leaving a dull syllable. It will be shown on Tuesday and Wednesday. The "Widow" will be presented on Thursday and Friday. It is a vivid human story of life's temptations, where love-values against struggling odds.

THE CASINO
Jack Hoxie in "The Coast of Folly" will be the special feature of the Casino Theatre this Saturday. It is a comedy-drama, full of thrills, and exciting. "The Police State" will be shown on Sunday and Monday. "The Love Story" will be shown on Tuesday and Wednesday. "The White Thunder" will be shown on Thursday and Friday. It is a story of a woman who tried to win her husband from a supposed rival by the Old Method of Counter-Attack.

PAUL'S FAREWELL AT MILETUS

LESSON TEXT—Acts 20:1-16

REVIEW—The story of Paul's journey to Miletus

PRIMARIES—Paul a Loving Friend

CHILDREN—Paul's Farewell at Miletus

INTERMEDIATES AND SENIORS—Paul's Farewell at Miletus

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULTS—Paul's Farewell at Miletus

REPRESENTATIVES—Paul's Farewell at Miletus

After the uproar at Ephesus, the Jews laid wait for Paul to return.

This plot did not succeed, and Paul was released.

He then went to Miletus, where he met with the elders of the church.

Paul reviewed his ministry to them, and they gave him a loving farewell.

Paul then sailed for Syria, and the church at Miletus prospered.

Paul's ministry was marked by love and sacrifice.

He was faithful to the end, and his love for his people was evident.

Paul's ministry was a model for all Christians.
